THE SCHOOL SONG: O DALRIADAN LAND

1. O Dalriadan Land!
Beneath your rain-washed azure skies,
Against whose northern strand
The great Atlantic rollers rave;
From where your great cliffs rise
Above the grey tumultuous wave
We picture Fergus stand
With far Argyle and Isla purple 'neath his eyes.

2. That hero's praises sing
We who upon these shores now dwell
Whence he adventuring
Sailed boldly to the purple north;
The Pictish heathen fell
Not fearing who so gaily forth
Bore earth's most precious thing,
Unknowing that he shared Christ's conquest over hell.

3. O Dalriadan Land!
Once to the north Christ's beacon light
Raised in Columba's hand
Amid the pagan dark to blaze
And triumph o'er the night;
As we your ancient glories praise,
Proud of our native strand,
We will uplift your splendid name in all men's sight.
